A recital, delightful for its informality and its novel features, was given Tuesday evening at Studio Hall, by Le Roy Gilder, tenor, and the American-Hawaiian trio, and was attended by one of the largest audiences of the summer a cason. Mr. Gilder, though handicapped by a cold that the day previous had threatened to keep him from appearing at all, proved most enjoyable, especially in the numbers, "My True Love Lies Asleep," by Phillips, and a group of plantation sonss, "Vira." by Lamont-Smith." and "Swing Along." by Geehl, "O Haste Thee, Sweet," by Geehl, "O Haste Thee, Sweet," by Hawley, "O Come With Me in the Summer Night," by Van der Stucken, and being recalled again and again, gave as an oncore "The Owl." by John Barness Wells. The trio, composed of Donald Libbey, marc Phillips and Sanford Covington, created much enthusiasm with squaint instruments, and the pathos characteristic of the H£ rafian music, runping through even the sprightly numbers. Each of the players wore around his shoulders a Hawaiian "lei," amond keep by a de koven, and "Beloved, It Is Morr." by Aylward.
